on soft gre-green foliage.

RAZZLEBERRY RUFFLES (b)
Large dusty pink winged flowers on a compact, neat plant with improved disease resistance.

FROSTBERRY RUFFLES (b)
New variety of Lavender with silver green foliage
and deep pink ribbons
from flower heads.

The ruffles range of lavender are bred for their distinctive ruffled coloured bracts that appear from late Winter into Spring.

The fragrant flower heads are borne just above the aromatic foliage. They are a low growing variety of lavender well suited to small gardens. They make a great container plant and ideal low hedge.
